Defendants.

75 Cr. 715 (MEL)

STATE OF NEW YORK COUNTY OF NEW YORK SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

FREDERICK T. DAVIS, being duly sworn, deposes and

- 1. I am an Assistant United States Attorney in the Southern District of New York, and as such am in charge of the prosecution of the above-captioned case. I am writing this affidavit to summarize the facts underlying the Government's response to motions filed by the defendants in this case claiming that there was undue and deliberate delay by the Government in bringing this indictment.
- 2. In September, 1974, I was sworn in as an Assistant United States Attorney in the Southern District of New York. In October or early November, I was assigned to assist Beneroft Littlefield, Jr., another Assistant United States Attorney, in a trial on Indictment 74 Cr. 1093, which superseded prior Indictment 74 Cr. 576. During the period of preparation for trial, Mr. Littlefield and others involved in the prosecution mentioned to me that a defendent named in the indictment, Line Gotes, had expressed an interest in cooperating with the Government. To my knowledge, Special Agent Saverio J. Weidl had spoken with Miss Gotes on several occasions and elicited from her several statements concerning the forthcoming trial on indictment 74 Cr. 1093. I was told, however, that at all times Miss Gotes refused to testify in that trial or in any trial because of her fear of retribution. I was present when Miss Gotes planded guilty to three counts of the indictment on Movember 4, 1974, and I escerted her to the office of the United States Marshal on November 18, 1974, when she serrundered to Federal custody. However, at no time prior to January 2, 1975, did I ever personally talk with her.

3. On December 2, 1974, trial commenced on Indistment 74 Cr. 1093 before the Homorable Mervin E. Frankel. The only defendants listed in the indistment on trial at that time were Lismel Marques and Jose Ray-Ferreiro. During the course of that trial, Mr. Littlefield and I considered calling Miss Gotes as a witness, and presured authority from the appropriate officials in Washington to request an order of use immunity pursuant to 18 United States Code, Section 6002. However, because of her continued refusal to testify voluntarily, and our inability to discuss her testimeny with her, we decided not to call her.

A. Just prior to the trial, I was told by either Mr. Littlefield or Mr. Weidl that Line

Gotes had mentioned the name of Sergio Castillo as a person who was aware of certain narcotics activities of Lionel Marques. Or Saturday November 30, and Sunday

December 1, 1974, Mr. Castillo came to the office of the United States Attorney and described to Mr. Weidl and others through an interpreter, the events underlying Count Two of the present indistment, to which he was an eyewitness. This was the first time I had heard of those events. I prepared Mr. Castillo as a possible witness in that trial, to be called in order to show a "similar ast" to Mr. Marques; however, partly because of the short time remaining in the trial, we decided not to use his testimony.

I have not seen Mr. Castillo since that time, but I am told FID:bj d-634 that he has been interviewed more times by agent Weidl and has elaborated on the statements he made to me in December, 1974.

- 5. On December 23, 1974, Miss Gotes was sentenced by Judge Frankel to nine years in prison. Shortly thereafter, I received a message that Miss Gotes wished to speak with Mr. Littlefield. Since Mr. Littlefield was not at that time grailable, on January 2, 1975 I spoke with Miss Gotes myself through an interpreter. She told me that since she was safely in prison for a substantial period of time and thus imume from threats or reprisals, she now agreed to cooperate "100%" with the government, including testifying at trial. In particular, she agreed to testify in the forthcoming trial against Elba Morales, who had originally been named in Indictment 74 Cr. 576, but who was severed from that indictment and named in a separate superseding Indictment, 74 Cr. 1189. This was the first time that I or, to my knowledge, any member of the government had been told by Miss Gotes that she would agree to testify in any trial.
- 6. For approximately six weeks in January and February, 1975, I did not speak with Miss Gotes. This was originally because she had been sent down to the Women's Reformatory in Alderson, West Virginia, and later, when she had been brought back to Hew York on a writ of habeas corpus, she was gravely ill. Beginning in early March, 1975, I worked with her frequently to prepare her testimony in the case against Elba Morales, which commenced on March 25, 1975. During March, to my knowledge, Miss Gotes spoke further with Special Agent Weidl about the events underlying the present case.

FTD: res 75-1358 4-634

- 7. Pollowing a return of a guilty verdiet in the Morales case, on March 27, 1975, I again turned my attention to developing the possibility of a further indictment against Hr. Marques and the others with whom he was dealing in 1972, and the case was formally assigned to me in April, 1975. During April and May, 1975, Mr. Weidl and I located and interviewed the other potential and prospective witnesses in this trial. In particular, in late May, 1975, Mr. Weidl located a women nemed Liliana Rodriguez, show he brought to my effice on June 3, 1975. The Government expects Miss Redrigues to provide testimony concerning the source of the cocains mentioned in Count Two of the present indictment. After talking with Miss Rodriguez, I for the first time tentively decided that the Government had a sufficient mount of evidence that would merit proceeding to an indictment. Also in May and early June, 1975, Agent Weidl and I procured correborative documents and other evidence that the Government expects to introduce at trial. After short delays caused by my being in court on several trials and by a vacation, several witnesses appeared in the Grand Jury in early July, 1975, and on July 19, 1975, the present indictment was file!
  - 8. On July 24, 1975, I interviewed Mr. Perults in my effice and in response to one question, smong others, from me, he said that his birth-date was December 8, 1948. This was the first time that I or, to my knowledge, any participant in this investigation was sware of Mr. Perulta's age.

9. At no time did I or, to my knowledge, any employee of the Government participating in this investigation in any way deliberately delay the investigation of this case or the presentation of the case to the grand jury. Whatever delay occurred between Movember, 1974, when the events underlying this indistment were first known to the Government in partial form, and the filing of the indictment in July. 1975, was caused primurily by my insistence that a thorough investigation be conducted and that the case not be brought to the grand jury until I was convinced that there was sufficient evidence to assure a conviction. As indicated above, there was, to my mind, absolutely no possibility of a presecutable case until Miss Gotes ennounced that she would testify against Mr. Marques and showed her willingness to do so in the Morales trial, and I was not satisfied with the strength of the Government's case until Agent Weidl located and interviewed Hiss Redrigues in May and June, 1975. Further delay was perhaps esuced by my appearing in court as presecutor in six multi-day trials between January and . me, 1975, and by the usual press of business in this busy office. Apert from the concerns discussed in this paragraph, I at all times attempted to bring this case to indistment as soon as possible. In perticular, I was worried that witnesses who had agreed to co-operate would decide not to do so or would leave New York. In addition, I was swere that Mr. Marques was on a period of special perole, resulting from an earlier conviction, that expired in August, 1975; had I been able to do so, I would have preferred bringing Mr. Marques to trial prior to that time.

10a

PTD:rms 75-1358 d-634 10. Because of the sensitivity of the information contained in this affidavit, the Government requests that it remain scaled until the witnesses mentioned herein have testified at trial. See United States v. Cuomo, 479 F.2d 688, 693-694 (2d Cir. 1973).

- 1. I am a Special Agent of the Drug Enforcement Administration of the United States Department of Justice, and am currently assigned to the office of the New York Drug Enforcement Task Force, 201 Variek Street. Until March 31, 1975
  I was assigned to Group 21 of the Drug Enforcement Administration at 555 West 57th Street.
- agent and the principal investigative officer in an investigation of various individuals in New York City known to be dealing in eccaine. As part of that investigation, in February, 1974, I was introduced to Lina Gotes in the guise of being a decler of nercotics, and during the months of February, March and April I had numerous discussions with Miss Gotes in this undercover capacity. In April, 1974, I participated in an undercover capacity in a nercotics transaction in which Miss Gotes' apparent principal contact was Lionel Marques. On information and belief, as a result of these and other activities an indictment was filed naming Miss Gotes and Mr. Marquez as defendants, and in July, 1974, these two individuals and others named in the indictment were arrested.

- 3. Beginning in the end of July or early August, 1974, Miss Gotes made occasional mention to me that she wished to discuss possible co-operation with the Government. In particular, she gave limited statements concerning her drug activities with Mr. Marquez and others during 1973 and 1974, some of which statements were reduced to writing. At this point, and up to the time of trial against Mr. Marquez, however, Miss Gotes told me that under no circumstances would she testify against Mr. Marquez, and that if she were called as a witness she would not testify to the facts that she had related to me.
- 4. On November 27, 1974, Miss Gotes mentioned to me for the first time that she had done narcotics transactions with Mr. Marquez in 1972, and further told me that during one of those occasions the cocaine had been brought to her apartment by a man she knew as Cholo or Cholito. As to these events as well, however, Miss Gotes insisted that she would not testify against Mr. Marquez. Hiss Cotes also mentioned to me that a man named Sergio Castillo was present at one of these transactions, and might be available to testify about it.
- 5. On November 29, 1974, I located Mr. Castillo in New York City and served a copy of a subpoena supplied to me by Mr. Bancroft Littlefield, Jr., of the United States Attorney's Office, upon his wife, with a direction that Mr. Castillo come to Mr. Littlefield's office the following day.

- to the commencement of trial against Mr. Marquez and his codefendant on the following Monday -- Mr. Castillo appeared at Mr. Littlefield's office in the United States Courthouse.
  Through the use of an interpreter, Mr. Castillo told me, Special Agent Gerard Carey and Mr. Littlefield his recollection of a transaction that occurred in his apartment in August, 1972, in which Mr. Marquez and a man named "Jaime" purchased cocaine from Rafael Sarmiento and Sergio Peralta, whom he also knew as "Cholo," using Lina Gotes as an intermediary. In addition, Mr. Castillo subsequently selected a known photograph of James Richardson as the man he knew as "Jaime." My notes of his statement were translated by the interpreter into Spanish, and the Spanish version was signed by Mr. Castillo.
- 7. During the course of that trial, I worked with Assistant United States Attorney Frederick T. Davis to prepare Mr. Castillo as a potential witness, and for that reason Mr. Castillo came to the United States Courthouse several times more. However, I was informed that Mr. Castillo did not testify.
- 8. In January, 1975, I was informed by Mr. Davis that Lina Gotes had agreed to testify in future trials, and for that reason I attempted to locate information relating to the facts given to me by Miss Gotes and Mr. Castillo concerning transactions in cocaine by Mr. Marquez and his associates in 1972. I first attempted to speak with Miss Gotes, but I was informed by Mr. Davis that she had been sent to West Virginia; later, when she returned to the New York area, I was told by prison officials that she was in the hospital because of serious health problems. In January, 1975, I did speak with Mr. Castillo, and took several further statements from him concerning the details of his knowledge of Mr. Marques and his associates. During January and thereafter I also spoke to numerous other possible witnesses and sought other evidence that might be used against Mr. Marques and the others with whom he dealt in 1972.

- 9. During March, 1975, I again was able to communicate with Miss Gotes. While the bulk of my discussions with her at that time related to her forthcoming testimony in a trial against Elva Morales, I also interviewed her in further detail about her knowledge of Mr. Marquez' activities in 1972.
- Rodrigues and asked her to come with me to the office of the United States Attorney. In June, 1975, together with Mr. Davis, I questioned her about her knowledge of Rafsel Sarmiento and Sergio Peralta, and she gave us information that I believe explained the source of the cocaine that Mr. Marquez bought in the presence of Mr. Castillo and Miss Gotes in August, 1972.
- 11. On the advice of Mr. Davis, I respectfully request that this affidavit remain scaled because of possible danger to the individuals named herein.

BANCROFT LITTLEFIELD, JR., being duly sworn, deposes and says:

- 1. I am an Assistant United States Attorney in the office of Paul J. Curren, United States Attorney for the Southern District of New York. As such, I was during 1974 in charge of the prosecution of Indictment 74 Cr. 576, later superseded by Indictment 74 Cr. 1093. This indictment named Lional Marques, a/k/a Chile Marques, and 17 other defendants. I am writing this affidevit to summarize my present recollection of certain facts concerning that prosecution.
- 2. Indictment 74 Cr. 576 was filed on June 6, 1974, and was ordered scaled, and bench warrants for all the named defendants were issued. On information and belief, on July 1, 1974, Line Gotes and Lionel Marques were both arrested and were both brought to the United States Courthouse for arraignment. I did not, however, participate in the arrest, nor did I interview either of them at that time.
- 3. Shortly after the excaignment of the abovenamed defendants, I was told by Saverie J. Weidl, the Special Agent of the Drug Enforcement Administration principally responsible for the investigation in the case, that Me. Gotes had indicated to him that she was willing to provide information to him but she was afraid to have her lawyer know that she was talking to the Government because if he know she feared Mr. Marques would find out as well.

FTD: rms n-841

- 4. During the course of preparation for trial in that matter, I received intermittent reports from Agent Weidl about conversations with Ms. Gotes, and was shown copies of certain statements made by her to him. At one point, to the best of my recollection shortly before the start of the two week trial which began on December 2, 1974. Agent Weidl told me that Miss Gotes had mentioned to him the name Sergio Castillo as someone who could provide information concerning Lionel Marques.
- 5. As the trial approached I was told by Agent Weidl and by Ms. Gotes directly that she was afraid to testify at the trial. In order to protect Ms. Gotes' interests, Rudolph Giuliani, Assistant United States Attorney and Chief of the Narcotics Unit and I arranged a meeting for her with Judge Frankel so that if she so desired, a new lawyer could be appointed to advise her. After this meeting, however she continued to tell us that she was afraid to testify.
- 6. Because of Ms. Gotes' unwillingness to testify voluntarily, this office obtained immunity authorization for her for use if we determined we should attempt to force her to testify. Finally, in view of her continuing unwillingness to testify, we determined not to use the immunity authorization to force her to testify.
- 7. To the best of my recollection (and with my recollection refreshed by reviewing the statement prepared by Mr. Castillo described below), on November 30, 1974, Sergio Castillo came to my office in the United States Courthouse, after I had provided Agent Weidl with a subpoena to be served upon him. Mr. Castillo related to Agent Weidl his recollection of a narcotics transaction involving among others, Lionel Marquez, and Lina Gotes that took place in /7a.

FTD:rms n-841 1972 and a written statement was prepared containing this information. On information and belief, these are the events underlying Count Two of Indictment 75 Cr. 715 (MEL). I considered calling Mr. Castillo as a witness to a "similar act" involving Mr. Marquez, however, for various reasons including the shortness of time, decided not to do so.

- 8. Since the end of the trial against Hr. Marquez on December 14, 1974, I have not spoken with Mr. Castillo, nor have I spoken with Miss Gotes except for passing conversation in the hallway of the United States Attorney's office and for several moments when I helped Mr. Davis prepare her for testifying in the trial against Elva Morales that began on March 25, 1975.
- 9. At the request of Mr. Davis, I respectfully request that this affidavit remain sealed.

ENDORSEMENT

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, v. LIONEL MARQUEZ, Defendant. 75 Cr. 715

LASKER, D.J.

The motion to dismiss the indictment because of the Government's alleged deliberate delay in filing the indictment is denied without prejudice to renewal as indicated below. Marquez makes no factual showing of deliberate delay on the part of the Government. On the other hand, affidavits filed by the Government positively assert that the first witness to supply information to the Government as to the facts underlying the present indictment did so in November or December, 1974, and that there was no intentional delay of the investigation by the Government. Moreover, Marquez has not shown that the date: of filing of the indictment caused him actual prejudice. James Richardson whom he asserts would have testified in his favor, died more than a year before any facts in this case were revealed to the Government. The bst letter from Ms. Gotes to Marquez' defense counsel in which she exculpated Marquez would not be admissible in evidence unless she testifies and denies such exculpation. Should that prove to be the case, the motion may be renewed.

The motion to dismiss the indictment on the grounds that the present indictment subjects him to double jeopardy because of a prior acquittal is denied. From the face of each indictment it appears that the crimes and facts alleged in the earlier indictment are separate and distinct from the crimes and facts presently alleged.

The motions are denied without prejudice to renewal during or after trial.

It is so ordered.

THE COURT: Sit back in your chairs and relax so that you can pay attention to what I have to tell you, ladies and gentlemen.

The language may be a little formal. I am going to read it because when it comes to matters of law these days we all want to be pretty accurate. But I hope that I can get the instructions across to you in an in. rmal manner.

If I should be too fast or if you do not understand anything I am reading or saying, please just rais: your hand and I will either slow down or explain it to you.

THE CLERK: May I have your attention, planse.

This Court is about to charge a jury. All spectators wishing to leave may do so now. Those electing to stay must stay until the completion of the charge.

Will the marshal please lock the door.

you have heard the testimony and the arguments of counsel, the time has come to instruct you as to the law governing this case.

You have been sworn as jurors to try the issues presented by the allegations of the indictment and on your determination of the facts, and I stress the words "your determination," to decide under the law, as I instruct you, whether the government has or has not proven the charges in the indictment beyond a reasonable doubt against either Mr. Marquez or Mr. Peralta or both.

I will discuss those charges with you in a moment in detail, but before that I wish to give you a few important instructions.

First, you are to perform your duties as jurors without bias or prejudice to or for anybody, whether the government or Mr. Marquez or Mr. Peraltz. The law does not permit jurors, and you would not want it to permit jurors, to be governed either by sympathy or swayed by prejudice or public opinion.

Mr. Stone was quite right when he said cocaine is not on trial. Mr. Marquez and Mr. Peralta are on trial.

Second, we start with the proposition that we started with at the outset of this trial, that is, that the law presumes every defendant, and, of course, Mr.

Marquez and Mr. Peralta, to be innocent of any charge

2 against him.

You will recall that when you were selected,

I specifically asked each one of you if you could enter into the discharge of your duties presuming Mr. Marquez and Mr. Peralta to be innocent unless proven guilty beyond a reasonable doubt after your own deliberations, and each of you gave me the answer, "Yes."

This presumption of innocence is sufficient to acquit Mr. Marquez and Mr. Peralta unless and until, as jurors, you have concluded that the government has proven its case against them beyond a reasonable doubt. The burden or responsibility is on the government to prove Mr. Marquez or Mr. Peralta guilty and to prove every essential element of the crimes that are charged.

Third, the existence of an indictment, I remind you, does not constitute evidence against Mr.

Marquez or Mr. Peralta, but is merely a method of bringing the charge against them.

The indictment in this case contains two counts now, as you know. Each contains a separate crime or charge which I will describe to you later and they must each be considered separately.

Now, I have said that the government has assumed the burden of proving Mr. Marquez and Mr. Peralta guilty beyond a reasonable doubt. Let me describe that important term which I repeated several times at the outset.

A reasonable doubt is not a vague, speculative or imaginative doubt. It is a doubt which, as the phrase suggests, is based on reason and which comes either from the evidence that has been put before you or that you have heard and seen, or from the lack of evidence, that you have not heard or seen. It is a doubt which a reasonable man or woman would entertain. It is a doubt -- and I think this is the best definition -- which would cause reasonable men and prudent women like yourselves to hesitate to act in relation to matters of importance in your own private lives.

Let us say you have an important decision to make. How do you go about making that decision? You think about everything you know about it, you think about everything you would want to know and have not been told and you say to yourself, "Do I have enough dependable information so that I am ready to act?"

If you say, "I do not," then you have a reasonable doubt. If you say, "I do," then you do not.

A mere suspicion, of course, is not sufficient to justify a conviction. Suspicion is not a substitute for evidence, nor is it sufficient to convict if you find that the circumstances merely render the guilt of an accused to be probable. The law does not deal in probabilities.

Since the burden or responsibility is on the government to prove Mr. Marquez and Mr. Peralta guilty, they have the right to rely on the failure of the government to do so and they may also of course, as in this case, rely upon evidence brought out on cross examination of government witnesses and the testimony of their own witnesses.

Now, in saying that the government must prove its case beyond a reasonable doubt, if there is to be a conviction, I do not mean to say that the government is required to prove guilt beyond all probable doubt.

Indeed, in human affairs it is hard to think of anything that we can prove beyond all possible doubt, with the possible exception of mathematical propositions. But the proof must be of such a convincing character that you would be willing to rely and act on it if it were among the most important decisions of your own private affairs.

The evidence in this case, ladies and gentlemen, consists of the testimony of the witnesses, the exhibits which have been received in evidence, and facts which have been stipulated or agreed by counsel.

You are obligated to decide the case solely on the evidence, but in your consideration of the evidence you are not limited to the bald statements of the witnesses. You are entitled to and must think beyond the mere words that were uttered.

In deciding the many questions before you, it is your job to determine the credibility or the believability of the witnesses who have testified here and all counsel have made it clear that this case turns on whether you believe those witnesses or not, and how you believe.

How do you go about determining whether you believe a witness or not?

Perhaps the best answer is to say you determine the truthfulness or accuracy or weight to be given to a witness' testimony in the same way that you would determine such questions in your own personal affairs.

we are all constantly called upon from day to day to determine how much confidence we place in the statements that people make to us. The truthfulness or dependability of a witness, as that of any other person, can be determined and must be determined by his demeanor, that is, his look, his relationship to the case and to the parties, to the possibility of his being biased or partial or of his not being biased or partial, the stake he may have in the outcome of the case, the reasonableness or unreasonableness of his statements, the strength or weakness of his recollection and the extent to which what he has said has been either corroborated or contradicted by testimony of other witnesses or by exhibits or stipulations.

of course, the testimony of a witness may also be impeached by his own prior inconsistent statements, unless there is some explanation for the inconsistency.

In ordinary life when you need to determine the truthfulness of a person you ask yourself, don't you, "How did he impress me? Did his version appear straightforward and candid or did he or she seem to be trying to hide some of the facts? Did he have any motive to testify falsely or no motive of that kind?"

The ultimate question for you to decide on in passing on the credibility of a witness is, did he tell the truth before me.

It is for you jurors alone to determine the weight to be given to the testimony of a witness and in making these suggestions and some of the suggestions to follow, I am attempting to give you guidelines only and not to dictate what your estimate should be of the weight of the testimony.

It is a general rule that if you find that any witness wilfully testified falsely as to any material that is important matter, not some matter which you believe to be insignificant, you may reject the entire testimony of the witness or you may accept such portion of it as you believe and reject the remainder.

as to a witness who has been convicted in the past of a certain crime. You may consider that conviction in determining the witness' credibility. By this I mean you may consider the prior convictions in determining the witness' worthiness of belief. But none of these rules, ladies and gentlemen, are absolute and you may find that a person who has been convicted of a crime may nevertheless, of course, be telling the truth.

Now, a few rules apply particularly in this case. One is with regard to so-called accomplice testimony

The government, of course, presented accomplice witnesses in this case and in the prosecution of crime a government is often called upon to use witnesses who are accomplices in the commission of the crime itself. This is particularly so in such cases as we have at hand.

It often happens that the only persons who are aware of the commission of the crime are those who were accomplices in the crime itself. However, experience has shown that an accomplice may be motivated to place the blame on others than himself.

Accordingly, an accomplice's testimony should be carefully scrutinized and checked with the facts which you find that do exist in the case and against the evidence which may corroborate and then you should give the testimony of the accomplice such value or weight as you deem proper under the circumstances.

I add in case you have ever acted as a juror in the State Court where the law is different, that the federal law is that an accomplice's testimony by itself may be sufficient to convict if, of course, it convinces you of the defendants' guilt beyond a reasonable doubt.

Now, it is also, of course, proper for you to consider the interest which a witness has in the outcome of a case. I do not mean to suggest, however, that a witness who has an interest in the outcome of a case may not be telling the truth in spite of his interest. I merely point out that you may consider that factor in determining what weight to give his testimony.

Now, because as you know every defendant is presumed innocent, it is not necessary that any defendant testify and Mr. Marquez has chosen not to do so and this was his right. The fact that he did not testify is not to be taken by you as any evidence against him whatsoever. Indeed it is to be completely disregarded.

I think you will understand the reason for that rule if you consider how you would feel if the government charged you with a crime. You would feel, if you knew yourself or believed yourself to be innocent, that it was not your obligation to prove you were innocent but the government's obligation to prove, as it is the government's obligation to prove that you were guilty beyond a reasonable doubt.

Mr. Peralta, of course, did testify in his own defense. When a defendant elects to take the stand, his credibility is to be tested by the same tests as you apply to any other witness. Clearly, however, a defendant does have an interest in the case which you may consider as you would with any other witness in determining his credibility. But you may not disregard Mr. Peralta's testimony simply because he is a defendant.

Now, ladies and gentlemen, let me talk for a moment about the difference between circumstantial and direct evidence.

There are generally speaking two types of evidence or two definitions at least, categories of evidence from which you may properly find the facts.

I am sure you have heard them referred to often. One is called direct evidence. That is the evidence of an eyewitness or earwitness. I have heard, such a witness would say, I have seen it.

The other is indirect or more generally called circumstantial evidence. Circumstantial evidence is proof of an event or circumstances which either -- which itself points to the existence or non-existence of facts as to which there was no eyewitness.

The law makes no distinction as to the importance or weight of circumstantial or direct evidence just because it is either one or the other. It requires only that you, the jury, find the facts in accordance with all the evidence, both direct and circumstantial.

I will give you an example of circumstantial evidence which is often used in this courthouse.

If you looked out the window here and see that it is raining, that is direct evidence, of course, that it is raining. On the other hand, if all the blinds were drawn in this courtroom and somebody came through the door over there with a dripping umbrella, that would be pretty good circumstantial evidence that it was raining outside. You would not have seen it with your own eyes, but you would have the right to infer seeing a man who comes through the door with a dripping umbrella that it was raining outside.

Now, ladies and gentlemen, both the United States Attorney and defense counsel has from time to time, although not too often in this case, made objections to the introduction of evidence and addressed arguments to the bench.

It is the duty of the attorneys on each side of the case to make such objections when the attorney believes that the other side is proposing to put into evidence or ask questions about something that is not properly admissible.

I want you to know that when I have sustained an objection to a question or when I have overruled an objection, that does not indicate in any way my attitude with regard to the merits or outcome of the case.

What it means and the only thing it means is that when I have sustained an objection, you are to disregard the question or when I have told you to disregard certain testimony, you are to disregard it and draw no inference from the wording of the question as to what a witness might have answered if I had allowed him to do so.

Now, ladies and gentlemen, that I have instructed you as to the manner in which you should consider the evidence and since you have heard a long summary of the contentions of counsel I will turn to the substance of the charge against Mr. Marquez and Mr.

Peralta.

Before I do, let me say that of the two counts, each constitutes a separate crime and that the indictment names five defendants in all but only two of them are on trial before you. The fact that others named in the indictment are not on trial is not to be considered by you.

It is only the evidence as to Mr. Marquez and Mr. Peralta that you are to consider. In the determination of the case, you must bear in mind, of course, that guilt or the determination of whether a man is innocent or guilty is personal. The case against the defendant must be determined separately with respect to him solely on the evidence presented against him or the lack of evidence. The case of each defendant stands or falls on the proof or lack of proof of the charge against him and not against someone else.

Let me now read you Counts 2 and 3 of the indictment which are those which remain for you to consider.

Count 2: The grand jury charges: That on or about the 22nd of August, 1972, in the Southern District of New York, Lionel Marquez, also known as Chile Marquez; James Richardson, also known as Jaime; Sergio Peralta Oyanedel, also known as Cholo or Cholito; and Raphael Sarmiento, also known as Rafa or also known as El Manchado, the defendants, unlawfully, intentionally and knowingly did possess with intent to distribute a Schedule II narcotic drug controlled substance, to wit, approximately one kilogram of cocaine hydrochloride.

Count 3 states: That in or about the month of November, 1972, in the Southern District of New York, Lionel Marquez, also known as Chile Marquez; James Richardson, also known as Jaime; and Hector Perez, the defendants, unlawfully, intentionally and knowingly did possess with intent to distribute a Schedule II narcotic drug controlled substance, to wit, approximately one kilogram of cocaine hydrochloride.

Thus Count 2 of the indictment charges that Lionel Marquez and Sergio Peralta and others distributed cocaine and possessed it with intent to distribute it on August 22nd, 1972 while Count 3 charges that Mr. Marquez alone, as far as the defendants in this case are concerned, and others committed that crime in November 1972.

The pertinent part of Section 841, the law passed by Congress that is referred to in this indictment reads as follows. I now read to you from the law:

"It shall be unlawful for any person knowingly or intentionally to distribute a controlled substance."

Section 812 of the law lists controlled substances in various schedules and Schedule II of Section 812 lists cocaine as a controlled substance.

Ladies and gentlemen, before you can find either Mr. Marquez or Mr. Peralta guilty of either of the charges here, you must be convinced that the government has proven the following three elements and all of them beyond a reasonable doubt as to the particular defendant whose case you are considering.

First, that on or about the date alleged in each count the defendant whose case you are considering distributed or possessed with intent to distribute cocaine.

Second, that he did so knowingly or intention-

And third, that the substance he possessed or distributed was in fact cocaine.

The first of the three elements of the offense 2 charged in Count 2 or 3 is distributed or possessing with 3 intent to distribute. Let me explain what these phrases mean.

The word distribute is defined in the statute to mean the actual or constructive or attempted transfer of a narcotic.

If you find that a defendant did distribute narcotics, you must then consider whether he possessed narcotics -- pardon me, if you find that a defendant did not distribute, actually distribute narcotics, you must then consider whether he possessed narcotics with the intention of distributing.

What does that phrase mean? The word possess has a common everyday meaning, that is, to have something within one's control, either physically or as the law puts it, constructively.

Physical custody only meets this requirement. I hold this thing. It is in my pocket. It is in my pants, wherever. Possession, however, can also be constructive. When you do not have physical possession of an object, you may have constructive possession of it if you know where it is and can get it any time you want and otherwise can exercise control over it even though you do not physically hold it.

The word intent refers to a person's state of mind, of course, so the term possess with intent to distribute can be fairly stated to mean to control an object with the state of mind of transferring it.

You will note that while the indictment charges the defendants with distribution and possession, to convict you need find only that the defendant whose case you are considering either distributed or possessed cocaine with the intention of distributing.

Turning to the second element that the defendant must have done what he did knowingly or intentionally, those words mean that a person who distributes or possesses narcotics with an intent to distribute them must have done so deliberately and purposely, must mean that he knew what he was doing and that his action was not due to carelessness, negligence or mistake.

The third element which must be proven by the government beyond a reasonable doubt is whether the substance that was distributed or was possessed with intent to distribute was in fact a narcotic drug controlled substance or in this case as alleged that it was in fact cocaine.

To make such a finding you are allowed to use your common sense to evaluate the evidence before you.

Did the material that you have heard described look like cocaine. Was it handled in secrecy or in such a way that those who possessed it showed their consciousness of its illicit nature. Were there any complaints from those to whom the substance was sold? Was money paid for the substance? These are questions that you may consider in reaching your conclusion as to whether the substance was cocaine.

Now, I have discussed with you the necessity for you to determine the intention of the defendants.

Knowledge and intent, of course, exist in the mind.

Since it is not possible to look physically into a man's mind to see what went on, the only way you have for arriving at a decision in these questions is for you to take into consideration all the facts and circumstances shown by the evidence, including the exhibits, and to determine from such facts and circumstances whether the knowledge and intent required by the law were present at the time in question.

Direct proof is unnecessary. In particular, you may find but are not required to find that the mere fact that a defendant possessed a larger quantity of a drug than would normally be used for personal consumption implies that he intended to distribute it to someone else.

22 23

Now, ladies and gentlemen, there is beyond what I have said one other basis upon which a defendant may be found guilty and I will instruct you about it now.

If you find that a defendant himself did not actually or constructively distribute or possess with intent to distribute cocaine in this case, you may then consider whether he aided and abetted someone else to commit that offense.

Section 2 of Title 18 of the United States

Code states that whoever commits an offense against the United States or whoever aids or abets its commission is punishable as a principal.

In other words, a person who aids and abets someone else to commit an offense is just as guilty of that offense as if he had committed it himself. Accordingly, you may find a defendant guilty of the offense charged in the indictment of this case if you find beyond a reasonable doubt that some other person distributed or possessed the cocaine with intent to distribute it and that the defendant in question aided and abetted that person.

To determine whether a defendant aided and abetted the commission of an offense you should ask yourself these questions:

Did he associate himself with the venture?

Did he participate in it as something he wished to bring about? Did he seek by his actions to make it succeed?

If he did, then he is an aider and abettor.

Now, you have heard evidence in this case tending to show that Mr. Marquez attempted to fabricate false exculpatory material and that he attempted to keep certain potential witnesses from testifying against him although, of course, Mr. Marquez' witness has denied that he did so.

I charge you that if you believe that Mr.

Marquez did attempt to keep certain potential witnesses from testifying against him, you may consider that as circumstantial evidence of guilt consciousness on his part and grant it independent probative weight.

Ladies and gentlemen, I have now come near the end of my formal instructions. The most important part of the case is the part that you will now play as jurors because it is for you and you alone to decide whether either Mr. Marquez or Mr. Peralta has been proven guilty beyond a reasonable doubt of the charges set forth in this indictment.

I know that you will try the issues that have been presented to you in accordance with the serious oath that you took as jurors in which you promised that you would well and truly try the issues joined in this case and as you probably remember from my repeating it time after time when I was impaneling this jury, based solely on the evidence which you have had put before you in this courtroom and the instructions which I am now concluding and reach your verdict.

I like that phrase "well and truly try the issues joined in this case." It goes back a thousand years and its old fashioned flavor should mean something to you and remind you of the hundreds of thousands of juries who have performed this function before you and remind you that "You must a true verdict render based upon the evidence you heard in this court and the exhibits."

In order for you to reach a verdict either of guilty or not guilty as to either defendant your verdict must, of course, be unanimous, that is, everybody must agree on that particular verdict.

Incidentally, in that connection I have prepared and will ask the clerk or the marshals to give to the forelady a verdict sheet which simply lists Count

2 and the names of the defendants and the possible choices here and Count 3 and the name of the defendant there. And you can simply put in an X mark when you have reached your verdict and that will assist the forelady in announcing the verdict that has been reached.

7 8

In spite of the requirement of unanimity, each of you must, of course, decide on each count as to each defendant in question individually and in accordance with your own consciences, but only after deliberation with your fellow jurors to determine whether you believe a just verdict is being reached.

You should not hesitate to change your mind if you become convinced that your original view of the case was not in accordance with the facts and the law.

On the other hand, you should not change your mind just for the purpose of reaching a verdict as a matter of convenience. I have no reason to believe that this jury would not be able to reach a unanimous verdict one way or the other as to the matters put before it.

To sum up, if you find that there was a reasonable doubt that Mr. Marquez or Mr. Peralta violated the law as charged in the indictment against them you should not for any reason hesitate to find a verdict of acquittal as to that count or that defendant, but on the other hand, if you find that the law has been violated as charged by either Mr. Marquez or Mr. Peralta, you should not hesitate because of sympathy or any other reason to render a verdict of guilty on that count as to that defendant.

Now, ladies and gentlemen, according to custom, Juror No. 1 will act as foreman of the jury, Mrs. Levy.

That does not mean that Mrs. Levy has any authority that the rest of you do not have but just that she will assist in seeing to it that your deliberations will be orderly and that all communications to the Court are properly made.

You have the right, as I believe you know, at any time to ask for the exhibits or any one of them. You have the right to have any of the testimony read to you or any of the exhibits submitted to you. You have the right to put any questions that you wish to the Court. If you do wish to have any testimony read back to you or any other exhibit, it would be helpful, Mrs. Levy, if you could be as specific as possible about the material that you are interested in so that we can assist in locating that material and, of course, the way that you get in touch with us is to give a note to the marshal who will be sitting outside the door of the jury room.

I am neither encouraging nor discouraging your asking for things but certainly want you to feel free

to ask for whatever you wish.

Ladies and gentlemen, I have now come to the end of my formal instructions. I will meet briefly with counsel in the robing room for them to tell me whether they believe anything needs clarification and we will come right back so please remain in the jury box.

I would like to get it as clear as possible before they

Mr. Marquez.

What in particular would you like to ask Mr. Weidl that relates to that subject?

MR. STONE: I'm going to ask him when he first met Sergio and his wife Eliana. When he first got statements from them. When he first gave those statements to the Assistant United States Attorney. Did he participate in a previous trial and testified against Mr. Marquez.

MR. DAVIS: I object to that.

THE COURT: I will sustain it -- well, I think you can ask whether he testified against him.

MR. STONE: Did he have a statement from Lina Gotes when he testified in the prior trial.

Then the next question or someplace in that order I will ask him whether Lina told him about aphone conversation in her cleaners and did he testify about that phone conversation and did he know that she told him it was Freddy and did he testify at the prior trial that that was Marquez after he talked to Lina.

THE COURT: You are calling him as your own witness and you are trying to impeach him by that.

MR. STONE: I'm going to ask him what he testified to.

THE COURT: It is relevant to nothing here.
(475R)
You are trying to show the man lied on a previous occasion. You are calling a government witness, who has not been called as a government witness in this case --

MR. STONE: I think it was deliberate.

THE COURT: They have a right to.

MR. STONE: I have a right to show motive.

Motive to fabricate a case against Marquez.

MR. DAVIS: You have had all your chance you wanted to to ask the witnesses against Marquez if they ever fabricated.

MR. COHN: Your Honor, maybe I will clarify it a little.

Suppose the allegation was slightly different, it was a selective prosecution. Would they not be able to ask him those questions?

THE COURT: I do not see how you can ask the agent that. After all, the agent wasn't the person who decided whether there would be any prosecution here or not. It was a United States Attorney and the grand jury.

If he came in and lied fifty times and they decided to proceed --

MR. DAVIS: Of course he didn't.

THE COURT: They have a right to proceed.

(Trial resumed.)

(In the robing room.)

THE COURT: The purpose of this meeting with counsel in the robing room and with Mr. Littlefield, the Assistant United States Attorney, is to determine what Mr. Littlefield's testimony might be with regard to certain questions that Mr. Stone wishes to put to him as the witness and then to enable the Court to determine whether that testimony would be admissible and whether Mr. Littlefield should or should not be called as a witness.

MR. STONE: The first question is did you meet

MR. LITTLEFIELD: I know she was arrested on or about July 1st, because I was out of the country at that time. And I know that I met her some time thereafter. whether it was July or August, I don't know.

MR. STONE: Did you prosecute her is an zb-3

You mean you would like it to be explained to the jury?

MR. STONE: Yes.

THE COURT: No problem about that if he testifies.

MR. STONE: Did you call her as a witness?

MR. LITTLEFIELD: She was not called as a witness by either side.

MR. STONE: Did you have statements of Sergio and Eliana Casteillo prior to December 1, 1974?

MR. LITTLEFIELD: Sergio and not Eliana, I don't believe.

MR. STONE: Did you ever talk to Eliana Castillo?

MR. LITTLEFIELD: I don't think I have ever seen her.

MR. STONE: You talked with Sergio Castillo?

MR. LITTLEFIELD: Again it was the agent and the interpreter but I know that he was in the office. I may have passed by during the conversation.

MR. STONE: You were aware of his statements before the trial of Lionel Marquez?

MR. LITTLEFIELD: Yes, some time during the beginning of the trial. Before the end of the trial.

MR. STONE: You didn't call him as a witness?

MR. LIONEL: No.

104a

MR. STONE: Did you compare his statement with Lina Gotes' statement?

 moment, and I have to refresh my recollection by reviewing the statements, but it is my recollection they covered different incidents.

MR. LITTLEFIELD: It is my recollection at this

Lina Gotes' statement had to do with how she had gotten, how her earlier dealings with Lionel Marquez

they had all been initiated through Lionel Marquez' wife had begun coming out of something to do with how she -- in jail, and the setting up of the back and charge from Chile.

THE COURT: I would like to know what it is you would wish to show. If you want, I will ask Mr. Cohn to leave the room, if you want to. I thought I made this clear 15 times already, I will not allow a replay in this trial of the history of the prosecution and trial strategy of the Government at the previous trial. Even if it were admissible at any time, it certainly is not admissible in this trial. That seems to me the sole line of questioning so far. If that is what --

MR. STONE: I certainly think I should get on the immunity situation of Lina, he talked to Lina and --

1 zb-5 2 THE COURT: What does that prove? 3 MR. STONE: I will go even further --THE COURT: If you want to put in the record 5 she was granted immunity -- did she testify at the previous 6 trial? 7 MR. DAVIS: No. THE COURT: Why didn't you ask her on cross if 9 she was granted immunity? 10 MR. DAVIS: She didn't know that. 11 THE COURT: If I am persuaded it is relevant, 12 I will be glad to ask the Government to stipulate. 13 MR. STONE: Did you ever ask Lina Gotes to plead 14 guilty? 15 THE COURT: What if he did? 16 MR. LITTLEFIELD: I can't recall. 17 MR.STONE: Did you consult with her before 18 she pleaded guilty? 19 THE COURT: What you are trying to prove is 20 that there was something improper about their decision 21 to prosecute in this case. That is all you can possibly 22 try to prove here. The questions you are asking have 23 nothing to do with that. 24 MR. STONE: I am also interested in using him 25 to impeach Lina Gotes.

THE COURT: All right, if you can do that.

MR. STONE: Her letter, if you can get the letter --

THE COURT: Of course, you will be permitted to use Mr. Littlefield for that purpose. You are quite permitted to use Mr. Littlefield or anybody else to impeach any of the Government witnesses. If you want to call him for that purpose, okay. But in my opinion, the proper questions weren't asked. When they were, they haven't zeroed in on impeaching her.

MR. STONE: She testified she wrote to Mr. Davis referring to Mr. Littlefield.

THE COURT: Ask Mr. Littlefield, do you know anything about that letter?

MR. LITTLEFIELD: What letter?

THE COURT: It is a letter in which she bitterly complained about having been -- is that the one you mean?

MR. STONE: Yes.

THE COURT: You know, she was unjustly treated, she received a nine-year sentence whereas Elva, who was tried and found guilty, only received two years, and how she hated criminals and hated the Government, she wasn't going to testify.

MR. LITTLEFIELD: I think I saw that letter.

MR. STONE: Did you advise her to plead guilty?

THE COURT: What if she did?

MR. STONE: It is interesting whether the Government advised her to plead. She claims, your Honor, that the reason that her guilty plea was evasive --

THE COURT: Did you advise her to plead guilty?

MR. LITTLEFIELD: I honestly can't remember whether I did or not. I know why she didn't testify against Lionel Marquez. She specifically told me she wouldn't ever testify against Mr. Marquez because she was terrified of him. She would testify against anybody else but him.

THE COURT: Do you want to ask him that?

MR. STONE: I don't think it is responsive.

I think it was slipped in as a curve ball intentionally.

that Mr. Littlefield could tell you relating to the prior trial that I think could remotely be admissible in this trial. If you want to call him as a witness for the purpose of trying to impeach her testimony, as you might anyway to impeach a Government witness' testimony, of course, you are entitled to do so.

I will rule on the respective questions as they are asked.

MR. STONE: Did you know that Mrs.Gotes' statement in a crucial issue is in conflict with what Agent Weidl was testifying about?

THE COURT: I won't allow such a question, naturally, because it assumes that that is necessarily so.

If you want to say did you know that she said so and so and he said so and so --

MR. LITTLEFIELD: If you are talking about the telephone call that Weidl thought was Marquez' voice, that Lina said was Freddy, or at some point Lina said it was Freddy, I specifically recall advising the Court and you at that time, and I believe it is on the record that Lina said it was Freddy.

THE COURT: The Court was Judge Frankel?

MR. LITTLEFIELD: Yes.

THE COURT: Mr.Stone, we fought this battle all the way through --

MR. STONE: I think I should ask him to identify the indictment that Lina Gotes pleaded guilty to and offer the indictment in evidence.

THE COURT: For what purpose?

MR. STONE: She denies ever being in possession of narcotic drugs. She only says she is an intermediary.

109 a

The indictment charges her with two possession counts. He is the one that advised her to plead guilty. I certainly think the indictment should be allowed in evidence.

THE COURT: Overruled.

MR. DAVIS: What is overruled?

THE COURT: Mr.Stone's proposal.

Mr. Stone, look, don't go on. I really --

MR.STONE: I have a tough position.

THE COURT: You do have a tough position, but I can't help it. The tough position is only tough because you are trying to make, get some leverage out of a situation you are not entitled to get leverage out of.

MR. STONE: I think I should be entitled to call Mr. Marquez as a witness, only as to motive and not bringing out credibility.

(Discussion off the regord.)

THE COURT: Mr. Stone has just asked whether he would be allowed to ask Mr. Littlefield whether Mr. Littlefield was happy with the results of Mr. Marquez' prior trial or who the defendants were at that trial, and the Court has ruled no as to both questions although States Attorney?

A Yes.

Q Were you the Assistant United States Attorney in charge of the prosecution of 74 Cr. 546?

A I am not sure of the number.

Q I show you Government Exhibit LG 3532 and ask you if that could refresh your recollection as to the number?

A Well, I don't have a specific recollection of the number, but I know what you are talking about.

MR. STONE: Would Mr. Davis stipulate that is the correct number?

MR. DAVIS: Yes.

THE COURT: Mr. Littlefield, having examined the caption, is that the case you believe --

THE WITNESS: Yes.
